

New Bassist: Scott Snyder

Written by Povohost - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 May 2009 18:06

Great White welcomes bassist, Scott Snyder. Scott joined Great White in May 2008 as their new permanent member and is now touring with the otherwise all original lineup. The band has already begun writing new songs with Scott and are looking forward to working with him in the studio to create their new CD.

Scott Snyder was born and raised in Chicago and influenced by such bands as Deep Purple, Uriah Heep, Kansas, Weather Report, and Earth, Wind and Fire. He now makes his home in the Los Angeles area where he's lived for the past several years. Scott has worked with such notables as Andy Johns, Simon Phillips, Derek Sherinian, Johnny Gioeli, Kelly Hanson, Josh Ramos, Terry Ilous and Dave Moreno.

Scott is honored to be part of the Great White family, and the original members are excited about this new incarnation of Great White.